

Things were going to change in 2019 however while I was preparing to meet the high school where I was going to be,

I got the school supplies and among other things, months before it finished
The year for some reason I remembered again the person I liked and missed a lot.

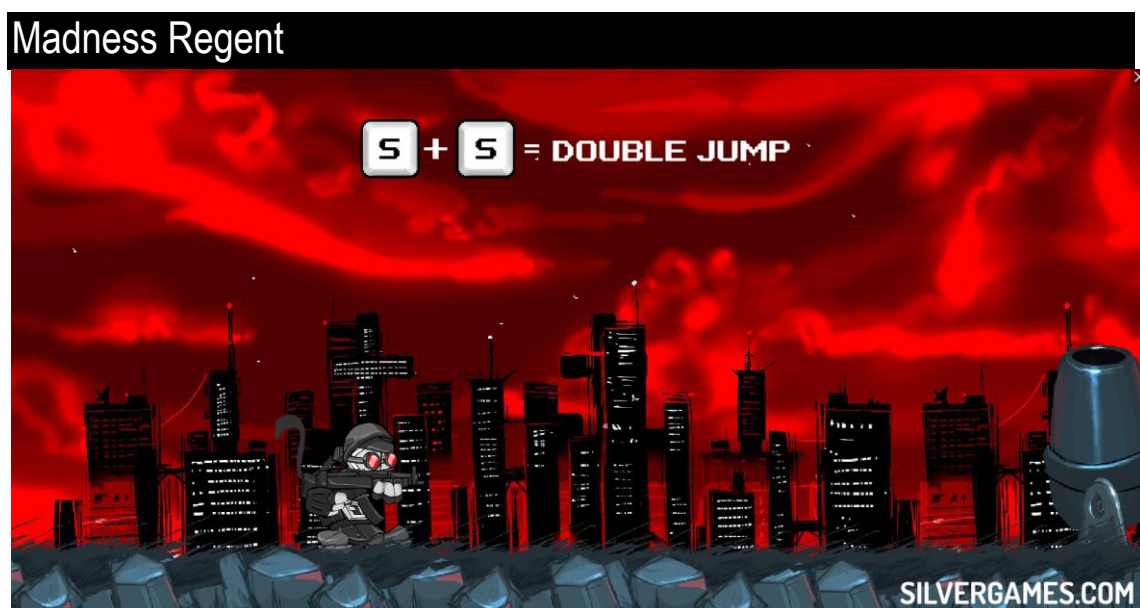

One night I told my mom about it, and I told her that I missed that person very much

To which my mom, seeing me sad, told me the following

She said that she was going to do something but that I had to be patient and she said the last thing she said to me

Very soon I would see the person on a red brick wall and I didn't understand at first, but later I would know what he meant.

After that she went off to do what she told me, and I started playing

And the music of the game, it was very nostalgic and memories of

When I was growing up in my old house, and the world back then was very different

And nostalgic at the same time, when that happened I reacted and went back to what I was doing

The year 2019 arrived and days before entering and visiting high school I went with my parents

To an errand to take out certain things so that they would let me enter high school,
And then I went to a cemetery, I don't remember why I only know that I went

It was a place a little removed from where I live, finally the day came when I went to see high school, I didn't bring school supplies or a backpack

Because it was just a tour and there were several classmates from my old elementary school

A guide took us to a room and told us to sit down and explained
Several things about the subjects and how we were going to work when suddenly

I thought I saw someone very familiar and at that moment I turned my head and I couldn't believe it

It was her, the girl I liked since 2012 I had seen her again

Just in case I turned again to confirm and at the same time she turned

And it was her, but it happened that I started to have nerves and involuntary head movements

Because of the shock and fright she gave me since I didn't expect her to do that,

In the end that was taken away from me and I hid it, although the strange thing was that at no time did he speak or say a word

During the time we were in the room, the guide finished teaching and talking to us

And he told us that we could leave, and I left high school and my parents came to pick me up

And I went with them, after that I had to prepare because the next day was officially the first day of school.

But for some reason I missed school and my parents told me that nothing was wrong

That it was normal for me to have fallen asleep because I had to get used to it

Getting up at 6 am to go to high school, after that my parents and I went to high school

To inform the principal why I was absent because I had to show up

In class, my parents parked outside the high school and we got off when we were Something unexpected happened, my mom saw someone and ran to hug that person.

That person was the girl I liked in 2012, she hugged my mom and my mom told me

That she was the girl I liked, I mean, she said her name and I couldn't believe it, I was in shock and at the same time happy to see her again

And she revealed to me and my parents why she had changed elementary schools

It turns out that she confessed that she changed and implied that it was because she thought that I had changed schools again

And she also decided to transfer to the same school where I was before in 2013

To see if he could see me, but when he didn't see me he decided to make his life and I was thoughtful

On the one hand, I found it very strange since she never saw her in elementary school that she said

I once went to the store with my father and when the people from that school went out to recess I never saw her

After that I wanted to give her a hug because I missed her so much, but I missed the opportunity

To do so and then my parents and I walked to the principal's address, but it happened

That when I looked back I saw that she hugged another and I told my mom and my mom

He tried to calm me down by telling me that maybe it was a friend of his, but something inside me

He told me that something was not right, I felt a little jealous, but also something strange

Something that warned me that it was possibly a red flag I decided to ignore,

And after doing some paperwork with the director and explaining why I was absent, he told me to come tomorrow and so I did

I left at 6 a.m. in the morning and entered high school

Everything was going well, everything was quiet, I was sitting in one place and suddenly it sounds

The bell rang from high school and a woman spoke into the microphone saying where

Each one of us went, that is, to which classroom they belonged and after that we made a line

To enter the corresponding room, however, the girl I liked spoke to me

But for some reason that I still don't know I decided to ignore her even though she called me by my name

When I turned to her, she expected me to say something, but I didn't say anything.

After entering the classroom I met my new teachers and classmates

Although almost half of the classroom was also from former elementary school classmates

The days passed everything was normal, one day the teacher told us to train

Equipment

And everyone got equipment, but me and the person I liked didn't have a team

And I admit I was about to tell her if she wanted to work with me

And form a team, but I didn't have the guts to do it

I was afraid she'd say no or she'd get mad at me

Then she and I were left without equipment and she decided to continue working alone

And so did I, although I thought she would tell me something to team up, but she never said anything.

The next day one of the teachers of the high school told us what list number each one was

The girl I liked got the number 9 and I got the number 17, but I wanted to be the number 10

Since in my old school she and I always had to be close to each other.

And now the opposite happened, to my bad luck, this was just the beginning

That same day it happened again that the teacher asked us to form teams

But this time when I was going to tell her to form a team with me

A girl got in my way, she wouldn't even let me get up from my bench

And she told number 9 to go with her to form teams to which she accepted

And I was left without a team and I was just a little sad because I didn't have anyone to team up with anymore,

I was thoughtful at the time I remembered when she and I used to work together as a team in my old elementary school, but now it happened that a boy

When he saw me he just decided to allow me to join his team along with other guys.

And there I met each of them and they told me their names, although I turned to look

Number 9 and she was talking to that girl and others

Several days passed and as they passed I noticed that number 9 became friends with that girl

And of the others, when several months passed one day number 9 behaved strangely

She began to speak in another language that she did not understand, that is, without me knowing that they were hints that she supposedly made to me

I saw that he was laughing out loud about something, I didn't know why at that moment,

I looked around and I didn't see anything strange or the cause that made her laugh

And it seemed strange to me, then I decided to ignore that and continue doing my thing

And when I did that, the same thing happened again, but this time she said the following

(hey obvious)

Among other things she said, and she did not know what the number 9 said

The month of April arrived and when I opened roblox I saw that there was an event called egg Hunt

And look on YouTube for a guide on how to get all the prizes of the event because the truth is

The prizes of the event looked very nice and great

When I finally got them, it felt great also because of the end game thanos glove

One day at recess my parents brought me my food when suddenly they appear

The friends of number 9 and also her, that is to say number 9 but I noticed that they were laughing and laughing

And I didn't know what they were laughing at or why so funny until number 9 said the following

(Pinche Perro)

He said it in a mocking tone, and I told my mom why she said that to which my mom

He replied that it was to get my attention or something like that that was a hint,

But deep down I felt

That something was not right since she did not swear or swear words before

She kept saying very weird and strange things

I admit that to some extent I was still ignorant of her behavior, however

Number 9's friends also did the same, she wanted to ignore them, but she couldn't Since they were also there when the different teachers of each subject were there

They did the same as number 9, said bad words and rude words and dropped alleged hints

Some of them made me angry, but I didn't say anything because the teachers were there

But the worst and most ironic thing is that they were not scolded or told anything, on the contrary, they seemed to agree

To make my life impossible, 2 months passed and they were still the same one day number 9

He sent me a friend request on my Facebook profile and I checked that it was

She and in short it was her had a photo where she appeared with a red dress just like Malicha's from Chavo del 8

And also in the photo he was with his tongue out, that is, on the side of his mouth

And he seemed to be in a car, I accepted his friend request to see if he would tell me anything

Or she clarified why she behaved like this along with her friends, but nothing I didn't receive any message

The next morning when I went to high school, at recess time, a kid from my classroom

He came up to me and said the following

He asked me if I got a friend request from number 9 and I said yes

But he told me to remove her from my friends list because she supposedly number 9

She told him to send me to tell me that that profile was fake and that someone else supposedly impersonated her

Obviously I didn't believe him, but I told him that it was going to be, although in my mind I was a little angry with that boy

Because it wasn't his business, plus he cares what she and I do

I admit that I felt jealous and angry at the same time, but I had to hide in those moments

After that when I got home I told my mom what happened and she told me

That he would not believe that child but that just in case he had it added to number 9

Although I waited several days to see if he would send me a message or something, in the end I got tired of waiting and decided to cancel the Facebook friendship

Several months passed and she and her friends were still bothering me in the classroom and at recess

One day the friend of number 9 to annoy me spoke to me and told me to change

As a seat to according to her be with the number 9 while we were in class I told her no

And she didn't like that and got angry but didn't say anything to me, the worst thing is that number 9 was next to me and that other friend

He made her go elsewhere, it was the height of the last.

And one day something happened that I didn't expect when I went to her profile on Facebook

Notice that she was speaking in code, i.e. English, but abbreviated in a post with a guy

She told him my bf, that is, boyfriend or boyfriend in Spanish

And he answered happily the same, but gf girlfriend or girlfriend in Spanish

At that moment I felt a lot of anger and jealousy

I couldn't believe it and complained to that guy at night on Messenger the next morning

I went to high school, but I realized something and that is that number 9 missed classes

But I didn't give it much thought because I was into other things at the time,

When it was time to leave, I noticed that number 9 was coming with that boy and the worst of all is that he didn't mind missing classes

When I got into my parents' truck, my parents had noticed

About what happened and they scolded me because that boy had sent several messages

On my phone answering me and insulting me for what I said and challenging me to fight

Against him, who, whether he was very brave or I don't know what,

When my parents told me that, they noticed that the boy was fighting

With the number 9 and the parents of the others, they just watched everything and watched

After that he and number 9 passed in front of my truck, and said the following:
number 9

That I will never forget and that was engraved in my head

(I like it, but it shits)

When number 9 said that, my dad gave her a burp in the face and then accelerated the truck angrily

And squeak it after that we left, although I was a little afraid

The truth is that I would not have hesitated at any time to throw a blow at that idiot

That boy who was with her, the truth is that his appearance was that of someone without studies

That is, someone with a bad life

The good news is that the next day I found out somehow that that guy treated No. 9 badly

And that now she had left him, although she was still sad and disappointed in what she became

I went on with my normal life, but in the middle of the year one night when I didn't go to school

It happened that I was at home more specifically in my room

I was watching videos on my Smart tv mini, when one of those videos that YouTube recommends caught my attention,

In the thumbnail there was an image that is the following

When I read that, it caught my attention without imagining that my life was going to take a 360-degree turn

I gave him to play the video and he explained several for example he told

That many people remembered Nelson Mandela's death in prison

A long etc. but between them there was something that made me realize that something was terribly wrong

The boy mentioned that which logo of my favorite cereal was the correct one to which I said

Fruit loops... But the following happened

He said that logo was wrong and that the real one was froot loops I was shocked and it gave me chills

And fear at the same time

I was... I admit I was a skeptic but the fact that someone told me I was wrong about that I knew instantly that something was not right, that is, I ate that cereal

Daily in 2012 and it was impossible for me to remember it badly and that nonsense that others say

I researched the Mandela effect and knew that the past had changed

When I went to a supermarket where I used to buy my fruit loops there I realized that indeed

The mandela effect was real and not nonsense

The cereal now said froot loops and not fruit loops, a few days passed while I researched the mandela effect

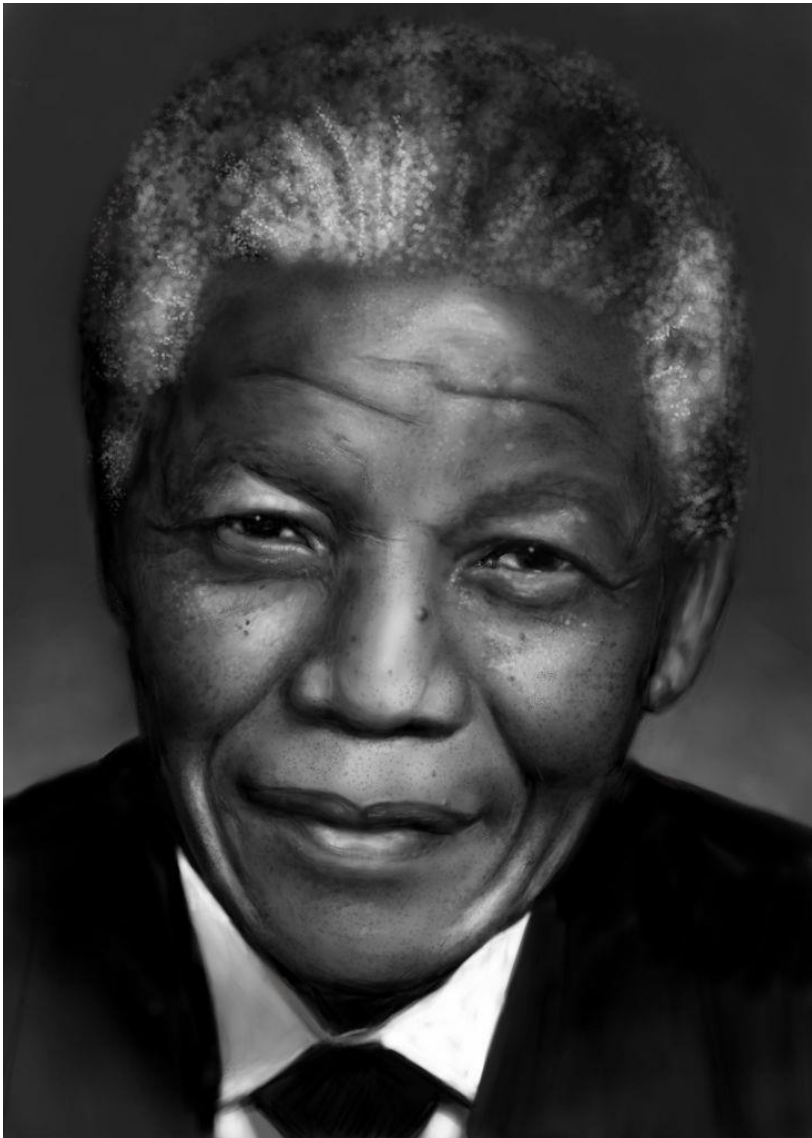

And one day when I went to high school everything was fine, but out of nowhere a classmate took the photo

By Nelson Mandela and I at that moment I got scared and my skin crawled

The most chilling thing was the fact that days before I had seen the video I told you

And I was in shock I thought it was a coincidence, but I decided to calm down and not say anything

The teacher brought the student to the front with the photo of Nelson Mandela.

And the student told his story and what he did in life and also about his death in 2013

Afterwards, although I dissimulated, I could not hide my fear and surprise when I saw that the theme coincided

Then several days passed and one day the biology teacher touched on the topic of 2012

That is, what life was like back then, to which I raised my hand

And I said the next question.

(If the world had to end in 2012, because even though the prophecies and everything that was said at that time were fulfilled, the world did not end.)

To which everyone in the room including the teacher said nothing, everything remained silent

Even the other rooms were also without noise or anything, the sound of the environment had completely disappeared

And the teacher and the people in the room showed no expression,

In my mind I thought they saw me as someone crazy, or I don't know but nevertheless

They didn't say anything, a few seconds passed and they were the same

And number 9 was also just like them watching me without saying anything.

I knew something wasn't right, it was like they confirmed my suspicion that something was wrong.

I was not right with reality, the silence confirmed it to me, it was as if I had Discovered or said something that I shouldn't have said or discovered, but it happened minutes later

Everything went back to normal and the teacher said something that I didn't understand because it was in my thoughts.

Thoughtful about what happened, they all went back to their business and continued working

Months passed and number 9 was still bothering me,

One day while it was raining and we were entering the computer room, a new student made a joke that went like this

(Look at the rain that falls from the sky is God's urine)

And he proceeded to mock, at that moment I was outraged by the joke, although I didn't say anything

A month passed we were between June or July and for some reason one day it was cold

I left with my sweater and some classmates too, and hours later the teacher

He told us to team up to go outside, but I didn't have anyone to team up with

But No. 9 found a team and left and I was left alone in the classroom and the teacher

I was gone, the room was completely empty and I decided to draw and I took the opportunity to relax

But my relaxation didn't last long because out of nowhere I came back number 9

Along with her friends, they kept saying hints and insults towards me

And the worst thing happened when number 9 brought some boys from the other classroom

And number 9 made me jealous and laughed at me and the other boys too, the worst thing is that one of them

The asshole looked at me very defiantly, and he still got a little closer to see what I was doing or not doing

However, number 9 said the following almost shouting and in mockery

I mention something about Jesus Christ and about me.

I just ignored them until the teacher arrived and scolded number 9 for

Bring those assholes

The truth is that at this point in the story I was really angry and very upset

Because of everything that happened to me and the worst thing is that the teachers never did anything to stop it

Then came the day when they handed in the exams and all the parents including mine

They attended, although as always the damn number 9 and her stupid friends

Making my life impossible and the worst thing is that they took a photo as a mockery

I stepped aside so as not to appear in that photo

A month came where I finally went to 2nd grade of secondary school, although at this point they had calmed down

She and her friends of number 9.

Although I already hated number 9 and her friends a few days before I told my mom

That I wanted to change high school, I could no longer stand number 9

For everything she and her friends did to me

But my mom said no, and I had no choice but to stay in that damn high school

The days remained the same, but calm but everything would change a day before I went to high school

And I sat on my bench all normal, but the closest friend of number 9 spoke

With the kid I told you about about Facebook almost at the beginning,

But there was something different that day, I felt sad and she and the child and the others including number 9

They looked at me strangely, that is, they saw that I was sad for no reason and I didn't know why

But I decided to ignore them and they didn't pay attention to that too,

However, hours before leaving high school, one of the friends of number 9

She sat on top of my bench, that is, I was sitting, but she sat down on top of where I write and began to talk

But I was somewhat uncomfortable trying to remove it since the teachers would realize that

And they might scold me because they thought something bad about me and I took her away, but she got angry

And she told me a hint which was something from a sack or something like that and the closest friend of number 9 also told me the same thing

But this time I no longer tolerated that they told me hints and I put them in their place almost by lashing out at them

I told them about the sack, and the atmosphere got tense and I was super angry about that damn brat

After that they sat down, but the person with the smile I saw that he started laughing

Of what happened to me and there I knew that she had betrayed me, I saw how she and the number 9 and her friends

They talked and all while they laughed at me, I couldn't stand the situation for a moment longer

It was time to leave and everyone left while other children stayed in the classroom

I saw that they threw the pen at someone in the class and made fun of it, this was the height of the last straw

And in the end they threw the pen at her from the 2nd floor through a window, I wanted to help that boy

But I couldn't, because my parents were waiting for me to go home and I had no choice

However, at 6 am the next day my parents woke me up to go to high school

I was already in my uniform and everything with a backpack ready, however, I stopped for a moment to think

And I told my parents that I didn't want to go to high school anymore because of everything that happened to me

And they were angry, I locked myself in the bathroom of my house never to go again

To that damn high school, in the end I was struggling with my parents so that they wouldn't open the door where I was

And after it was 7 a.m. they finally gave up and I got out of the bathroom, but my father

As I undressed to take off my uniform, he angrily told me the following words that I will never forget

(You're going to regret it all your life, you're going to want to go back in time, or the past and you're not going to be able to go back, you're going to see)

And after threatening me, I ignored him not knowing that maybe my father was right and would make the biggest possible mistake of my life

Then I asked him if I could fall asleep and he angrily said yes

Not knowing that it was the worst mistake of my life and that I would regret it later I went to bed and finally fell asleep, but something bad happened....

I was having sleep paralysis and I saw that everything around my room was

Floating, that is, I saw a kind of several numbers and binary codes

While the furniture and objects around my room were failing

And the worst thing is that I regretted sleeping and struggled to wake up, but I couldn't scream loudly at my parents, but they never listened to me

I had regretted it and wanted to wake up to go to high school better

But in the end I couldn't wake up when finally the sleep paralysis was over

I woke up, but I realized that it was already 12 am in the afternoon

But my parents were still upset and didn't want to talk about high school

1 month passed and the month of December 2019 arrived

In that month after everything that happened one day while my cousin was helping my parents

To move something unexpectedly while I was in my room a little sad and depressed

My mom yelled at me that number 9 along with some of her friends were outside my house shouting my name

And my mom along with my cousin told me to go out...

But I said no, I thought it was a joke of their bad taste to make me angry and cry

And I decided to continue lying covered with my blanket, after a while

My mom told me that number 9 and her friends were already gone

But I didn't believe her until my mom was honest with me and told me in a serious way now together with my dad that yes

They came and that he had watered it by not coming out

At that moment I covered myself with my blanket and began to cry like never before, knowing that perhaps it was

My last chance for a possible reconciliation with number 9 and I wasted it

And my worst fear was confirmed when I had a dream or a vision, where they showed me

That I and number 9 had had a daughter, and I worked as a bricklayer due to

I bet I had to get money to feed my daughter, while number 9

I was going to college with my daughter in her arms while I worked.

Although at the end of the dream I had to unclog a toilet and I woke up screaming,

So what I dreamed for me was very strange and lived the dream, I told my mom about the dream I had

And she was sincere and told me that she had dreamed the same but different perspective

She told me that it wasn't a dream, she told me that she showed her, what would have happened if she had continued

In high school, she told me that maybe number 9 and I could be boyfriends

If she had been in high school, and she told me that she saw that number 9 and I along with our daughter

The image you see is only representative

We slept in the room where she was at the time, and she saw the same thing she told them.

But for some reason my dad was nowhere to be seen, after he told me

All that I was very sad because deep down I always wanted to have a daughter

And I always wanted to have a girlfriend was what I wanted most in the world, but now all that is gone and now

The dream I wanted so much closed like a door....

December 24 arrived, but at that point I didn't even want to celebrate Christmas, I had another one

Discussion with my parents that I will tell them in more detail later and the

31

December 2019

It was almost 12 o'clock at night and me and my uncles and my parents

We were celebrating the end of the year we had all agreed to make a wish, I made one and so did my cousins

However, what I didn't know or anyone else is that my decision not to have gone to high school that day.

Nor having gone out when my parents told me for a possible reconciliation with number 9

It would cause a butterfly effect that would cause something much worse than you imagined

And it would also cause a domino effect that would have its consequences in the following year

And it would mark a before and after worldwide....
